Debate Tourney to Be Held March 14

The debate squad of Bowling Green State University will be host to the debate squads of several colleges at a Northwestern Ohio Debate Tournament here March 14 according to an announcement made last week by Prof. Upton Palmer, speech instructor.

The tournament will begin at 9:30, Friday morning and the teams will debate the national Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved, That the Nations of the Western Hemisphere should form a Permanent Union."

DeSales College from Toledo, Heidelberg, Findlay, and Ashland are definitely expected to attend. A touring group of women debaters from the Alabama College for Women, Montevallo, Alabama, will also participate in the tournament.

B. G. Debaters Tie For Third At B.-W.

Waldo Egbert and Robert Morgan won 4 out of 5 debates at the Great Lakes Speech Tournament at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, last Friday and Saturday as Bowling Green, Kent, Heidelberg, Notre Dame, and Westminster all tied for third place in the tournament.

The University of Pittsburgh received a plaque for winning first place while second place went to the University of Akron. Egbert and Morgan defeated teams from Akron, John Carroll University, Ashland College, and Michigan State Normal. They lost to a team from Wesleyan.

Marvin Pierce and Clarence Homan won 3 and lost 2 of their debates. They defeated the women's team from Capital University which won the state tournament this year.

Director

GERALD R. PRESCOTT

Instructor at the University of Minnesota, Gerald R. Prescott, above, will be guest conductor at the Ohio Band Festival to be held here this week. His services were secured by Prof. E. E. Smith.

Prescott is a graduate of the University of Iowa where he majored in public school music.

All-Ohio Bands Will Play Here This Week-End

Prescott Of Minnesota Will Be Guest Conductor

The All-Ohio Inter-Collegiate Band Festival under the direction of Gerald R. Prescott of the University of Minnesota, will be held at the University this week-end. Universities and colleges from all of Ohio will be present here to present a two day program.

Friday evening the band will assemble for rehearsal and will continue mass rehearsal Saturday morning.

Saturday afternoon several individual band concerts will be given by the University band.

Saturday evening Mr. Prescott will conduct the entire group in a mass band concert in the auditorium. The concert will begin at 8:15.

A shortage of rooming accommodations has forced the music department to solicit aid from the fraternities, sororities, and other convenient sources. Accommodations may be placed in the hands of Prof. E. E. Smith of the Music department.

Cancellations Cause Tour Postponement

The Treble Clef's tour which was to start this week-end has been postponed until May because of some last minute cancellations of engagements.

Faculty Pro Intervention, Anti Athletic Subsidization

By JOHN BERCHMAN

Going on record as strongly against the subsidization of athletics here on the campus, the university faculty in the second of a series on faculty opinion, voted 35 to 15 against the proposal and at the same time almost contradicted the student stand taken on entering the present world conflict by the narrow margin of 28 to 22.

The subsidization of athletics which closely parallels the system used by the universities in the Southeastern Conference (Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, etc.) found little favor and those who did favor the idea did so with reservation. The faculty stated that it would lower the academic rating of the University and would find no favor among the members of the Ohio Conference while a large majority of these who dissented saw it as a grave evil to the future well-being of the school. Those who favored the proposition did so with reservations, stating almost unanimously that no scholastic favoritism should be shown and that it should be done only if other universities in the Ohio Conference inaugurated the practice.

Cheerleaders Get Rewards In New Plan

Will Get New Uniforms, Sweaters; Tryouts To Be Held

"A cheerleading program, entirely new, and fully complete will go into operation next week," announced Mr. Harry Ockerman, Director of University Athletics today.

Mr. Ockerman, in a conference with Max Ihrig, student council representative, Larry Kuhl, speech department representative, and Hugh Nott, representative at large, set up a cheerleaders program with award system and new uniforms.

New Uniforms

The cheerleaders are to be fitted with new uniforms starting next semester. They also will have an award system similar to the managers in the athletic department. The awards will be given on a merit basis and will range as follows: first year award, jersey sweater; second year award, a baby shaker sweater; third year award, a baby shaker coat sweater, and the fourth year award, a shaker monogram sweater. These sweaters will be just like the varsity sweaters except they will be in white.

A sample set of the cheerleaders' sweaters exactly like the awards will be on display in the show cases on the second floor of the Mens Physical Education building in a few weeks.

Council Awards Trophy

The Student Council will award a silver megaphone on which the senior cheerleader's name will be engraved and each year following the senior cheerleader's name will appear on that megaphone. The trophy will be on display from year to year in the display case of the Physical Education building.

Try-outs Soon

Prof. Upton Palmer, of the Speech department, has been selected as the director of the cheerleaders and will be in complete charge of them in the future. Mr. Palmer will meet with all men interested in cheerleading in Room 103A at 8 o'clock, Thursday evening, the 13th.

Those men interested in cheerleading are urged to attend this meeting so that plans can be finished for spring training so that the cheerleaders will have everything in shape to start off a "bang up" season next fall.

There is to be a senior cheerleader, chosen each year from the previous year's junior material, on a merit basis, by Mr. Palmer and the President of the Student Council.

His Violin Is Insured For $50,000

ALBERT SPALDING

The rare Guarnerius tucked under chin above is insured for $50,000. The chin belongs to Albert Spalding, world-known violinist who will play here at 8:15 tonight.

Spalding is one of the few artists who does not have his hands insured. He insures his violin but not his hands. "There will always be violinists," he says, "but there's only one violin like this one. Years after I've left this stage for the next, there, will, I hope, be some violinist to draw music from the soul of this beautiful instrument."

Men's Glee Club Will Give Concert Here Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The Men's Glee Club of this university will present their annual home concert next Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. in the auditorium. The program for the evening released today by Director Leon F. Fauley follows.

The club starts off the program with a group of sacred songs including "O Bone Jesu" by Palestrina, "Laudamus" by Protheroe, "Beautiful Savior," a 12th century melody, and "The Creation" by Richter. This will be followed by a trumpet duet presented by Norman Huffman and John Johanssen. Their selection will be "On the Mountain Top" by Barnhous.

A group of songs from opera will be next. The Glee Club will sing "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck and "Entrance and March of Peers" from "Ionlanthe" by Gilbert-Sullivan.

D'Asaro Is Stage Manager For P&P

Michael D'Asaro received the position of stage manager for "Pride and Prejudice" when Prof. Elden T. Smith announced the technical crews last week. Assistant stage managers are Dorothy Fisher and Eulalia Moellman.

Jack Wilhelm is the assistant designer and technical director, Waldo Egbert is the building carpenter. Costumes are in charge of Marie Greenwood. Marjorie Suter is head of the property committee.

Roger Wheeler has charge of the lighting, David Aurelius is stage carpenter. Audrey Morris is in charge of make-up.

Assistants to the crew heads are: Marion Baron, Olin Fischer, Elizabeth Hamlin, Max Hanke, Ruth Kelmeyer, Lois Mayfield, Patricia Mel, Jane Myers, Eileen Pickett, Mary Plowright, Richard Roberts, Bruce Seigenthaler, Paul Ladd, Eugene Chestwood, Allen Lewis, Joe Freeman, and Joan Norsworthy.

Laura Heston Attends Dedication Of School

Miss Laura Heston, head of the department of home economics, was official representative of the Whitney family at the formal dedication of the Harriet Whitney high school, Toledo, last Friday.

Mrs. Harriet Whitney Collins, after whom the new girls' vocational high school is named, was the first woman school-teacher in Toledo and was Miss Heston's maternal great-grand-mother.

World-Famous Violinist To Appear In Auditorium

Concert Will Include Selections From Bach, Brahms, Ravel; Master Receives Honor Given Only To Mozart

Albert Spalding, world famous violinist, will appear here in a concert tonight in the University auditorium at 8:15 p. m. in the most outstanding entertainments the University has seen in many years. Students will be admitted by activity cards; admission for townspeople is 50 cents, and high school students will be admitted for 25 cents.

H. Canby, Author Speaks March 19 In Assembly Here

Five Sisters To Present Contest Program March 26

Henry Seidel Canby, noted author, critic and lecturer, will address the University assembly at 10 o'clock, March 19.

Mr. Canby will be recognized as the author of several recent top notch books such as "The Age of Confidence," "College Sons and College Fathers," "Our House," "Everyday Americans," and several others dealing with short stories, composition and literature criticism.

He is the editor of the "Saturday Review of Literature" in connection with the "New York Times" and has edited several leading periodicals. He contributes to such magazines as "Harpers Atlantic Monthly," "North American Literary Review," and the most prominent and recognized magazines of our times.

Mr. Canby will be one of the most distinguished speakers that will appear on the campus this year.

University Band

The University band presented a colorful and select program in last week's assembly. The program, attended by a capacity crowd, was well received by the student body, and announced as one of the big local talent hits of the year.

Paul Bishop, an accomplished violinist, played the only solo on the program and was received with great enthusiasm by the audience.

March 26 Assembly

March 26 the Five Sister Sorority will collaborate on the second in the series of assemblies given by the fraternities and sororities in the Student Council Award Contest.

Dr. Overman, M. McEwen Evaluate Ashland School

J. R. Overman, Dean of the Liberal Arts College, and M. C. McEwen, of the music department, are both in Ashland, Ohio this week helping to evaluate Ashland High School.

The evaluating staff is made up of a number of high school teachers and college professors who visit the various departments of the high school and then later submit a written report to the school officials, enumerating both the good and bad characteristics of that particular educational system.

Current Catalog Outlines 62 New Courses For 1941-42

Sixty-two new courses have been added to various college departments, according to J. R. Overman, Dean of the Liberal Arts College and Editor of this year's catalogue. The major additions in this year's catalogue were made in Business Administration, Business Education, Physics, Civilian Pilots Training Program, Economics, Industrial Art, Journalism, Mathematics and Speech.

Three additions were made to the Business Administration Department, among which were Money Markets and Law of Marketing, while the Business Education Department will offer 23 new courses.

Photography will be offered by the Physics Department and Civilian Pilot Training should prove to be a favorite to all students interested in flying. Money Markets and International Trade and Finance will make up the two new courses offered in Economics while the Teaching of Music and Introduction to Education are two of the three new additions to the Education Department.

The department of Geology adds Introductory Mineralogy and Petrology to its curriculum as Political Parties and Political Thought make up the new Political Science courses. The girls will probably be interested in Nursery School Practice which will be offered by the Home Economics Department, however, the boys will no doubt find Descriptive Geometry, an Industrial Arts course, just as interesting.

Thirteen new courses in Journalism should delight any journalistically inclined students while Beginning Algebra and Plain Geometry will be offered as the new Mathematics courses. Lastly, and of interest to all students of speech will be the six new Speech courses. Of these, Radio Production, Speech Composition, and Principles of Radio Broadcasting should prove the most popular.

Spalding, who made his professional debut in Paris and his American debut at Carnegie Hall, New York, as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra, Walter Damrosch, Conductor, will play the following program tonight:

Sonata in G J. S. Bach
Adagio-Vivace-Largo-Presto
Fantasy in A G. P. Telemann
Moderato-Vivace-Presto
Sonata in D Minor, Op. 108-Brahms
Allegro moderato, Adagio, Un poco presto e con sentimento, Presto agitato
Poeme Intermission
La Fontaine Szymanowski
d'Arethuse Albeniz
Sevillana Albeniz
Piece en forme de Habanera Ravel
Dance of the Green Devil Cassado
La Campanella Paganini

Born In Chicago
The celebrated violinist was born in Chicago. At the age of seven he began his music career on a four dollar violin he received as a Christmas present. After studying under Chiti, famous Florentine master, Buitrago in New York, and Lefort in Paris he attended the Bologna Conservatory of Music. He graduated at the age of 14 and received the highest honors ever accorded anyone since Mozart.

While still a comparatively young man, he has made an enviable reputation for himself as a composer. He has to his credit over sixty violin compositions, 25 piano numbers, 30 songs, four chamber music quartets, four orchestral compositions and endless transcriptions and arrangements.

Active In Sports
Spalding, son of A. G. Spalding, founder of the athletic supply company, spends a good deal of time playing tennis, golf and swimming in the summer.

He has won several amateur tennis championships and is one violinist who disapproves of the theory of insuring one's hands. He used to box a good deal. When his trainer told him to "Ease up. Save your hands,"—the violinist would retort, "Come on. Try and hit me."

No Favorite Composer

As a musician, he is broadminded, claiming adherence to no one school. He has no favorite composer, for his sympathy is too encompassing. As for the moderns, who was it said, "The dead Romantic of today becomes the Classic of tomorrow?" Substitute "the dead Modernist" and the analogy is complete. Spalding, however, mentions Stravinsky, Bela Bartok, Respighi, and Manuel de Falla among those whose music interests him. "I'm especially partial to the Spanish composer and to the Spanish dance," he says. "There is an art expression."

"As for Ravel, he is to Debussy as near beer is to the real article."

Eight Student Flyers Learn At Dual Controls

Eight student flyers have once again entered the primary stages of the Civilian Pilots Training Program and have been taking their dual flying instruction for the past two weeks, according to a statement released by Major J. K. Raney, C. A. A. coordinator.

Student flyers are not allowed to solo until they have had eight hours of dual flight instruction, however, during this period the student learns to take off, land, bank, make turns and emergency landings.

War Inevitable? ...

More and more, the talk of war with Germany as being "inevitable" is gaining favor. A recent editorial in the Saturday Evening Post showed a definitely defeatist and appeasement attitude. According to PM, New York Daily, people writing in to protest the editorial received a typed note asking them to "remember the Post's words when the United States is sunk."

Those who assume an inevitable attitude are too fatalistic. Generally, they are the same people who do not believe in aid for Britain, the same people who believe that the United States should practice a policy of strict isolation, that we should, in turtle fashion, draw into our continental shell and sever relations with Europe. They believe that by aiding Britain, we are stepping closer to war. We believe the reverse to be true.

Great Britain is dependent to a large extent on American aid in this war. She needs material aid far more than manpower. If we do not give her this aid, she may still win the present struggle, but her chances of defeat would be greatly increased. But what difference does it make to us if Hitler does win? Just this: Although the chances of direct invasion of the United States by a European power are quite remote if not impossible, there is danger of economic suffocation. Great Britain imports more food, of which we already have a surplus, from the United States than any other single nation. If the farmers cannot sell their products now, what will they do with a large part of their foreign market gone? Even the development of our South American market would not compensate for the loss of a European market.

War is NOT inevitable. If we keep thinking in these terms, and do all we can to give "all aid short of war," we will not be in nearly the danger that exists when we think of our entry into the conflict as just a matter of time. This is not a time when we should "re-sign ourselves to our fate."—JM

For Better Cheering ...

At last some definite action has been taken in regards to cheerleaders and cheering sections for athletic events. It is something the university has sadly needed for some time.

Recently, cheering at games has been at a minimum simply because the cheerleaders were not organized. The cheerleaders were not at fault however, since they were entirely on their own without any backing what ever.

Under the new plan, Prof. Upton Palmer will be in charge of selecting cheerleaders. The selected men will be given rewards for their services, giving them real incentives to put some real work on yells. The leaders will also be put on a merit basis, with the senior member as head leader and the underclassmen serving a sort of apprenticeship.

The Student Council deserves a pat on the back for inaugurating the idea and making the necessary plans and securing funds for the enterprise.

Next fall ought to see some enthusiastic fans in the stadium yelling for the Brown and Orange and led by a bevy of snappy cheerleaders who are wide awake.—AF

The Mailbox

By MAX
HANKS

One of the well liked professors at the University of Richmond felt lazy one day and wrote on the board, "The professor will not meet his classes today." One cute little coed got cuter and erased the "e" from the word "classes," leaving "lasses." When the professor returned to the classroom next day, he saw what had happened, went to the board, and, calmly erasing the "l," took another day off.

A BIT OF KEATS

Marriage to you was the very last thing. Then suddenly, "Hi, Babe; come on—here's a ring!" You're kidding me none, man, it's easy to see.

Conscription's the reason you're marrying me!

Say, I can remember the day in your life

When you'd took poison before any wife,

I'd hint and I'd hint, and I'd worry and worry

So love ain't the reason you're in such a hurry.

I used to say: "Darling, don't this sound swell—

A cute little cottage all cozy and 'comf'

A bright little fire and a wife that's got 'umph'!"

And all you could say was: "I first want my fling;

There's plenty of time for a babe and a ring."

Nope, I can't believe that it's marriage you crave,

It's just your avoiding a damned early grave;

Conscription's the reason and this is no guess,

But hell, what's the difference? The answer is "Yes!"

Cornell Daily Sun

Associated Collegiate Press tells the story of the campus Romeo who went to a fraternity convention and after three days wired the local girl: "Having swell time. Wish you were her."

Then there was the man who had quite a problem. He couldn't figure out what made the sun rise. Early in the morning he awakened to watch it come up in the east, and at night he watched it sink down in the west behind the leafy expanse of the forest. And always the next morning it wouldn't come up from where it had disappeared the night before; it was always on the other side. Very mysterious you know. One morning he got up real early, about four o'clock, and went out on the front porch to see how it was done. And in a couple of hours, do you know what? It dawned on him.

OCNA Gives Analysis Of News Editorial Page

In a critical analysis of editorial pages of college newspapers of Ohio College Newspaper Association, Tom Bates, senior in journalism at Kent State University and a member of OCNA, made the following comment about the editorial page of the Bee Gee News:

"The double column width given to the columnists tends to steal attention from the editorial column. With the 12 cm column adjacent to the editorial the weight seems to hang on the right side of the page. Pick up heads take up space which could be exchanged for timely heads. Big play on columns also pushes the one-column features further from the reader.

Tony's editorials, which evidently follow a well-chosen policy, are often verbose. But Tony can praise Allah that he has three columnists of the caliber of Boucher, Habenstein, and Mittleman—they click. The rest of the features are about as unimportant as the lopsided make-up would show them to be. Editorials aren't really thought-provoking for they treat too much with existing conditions and overlook principle. Of course, treating facts of condition leaves no room for argument."

Bates made a critical study of 18 papers of the Ohio College Newspaper Association. The study was made at the suggestion of Tony Frances, editor of the "Bee Gee News" and president of the Ohio College Newspaper Association. Bill Schraegle, editor of the Kent State yearbook and chairman of the 1941 OCNA convention, secured Bates to do the job.

The annual convention of the OCNA will be held at Kent State University April 23, 24, and 25, according to Frances. The "Bee Gee News" is planning to send at least five delegates.

A course in Latin-American history has been added to the curriculum at Lafayette.

Letter To The Editor

Editor, Bee Gee News:

Harold Laski, in "Liberty in the Modern State," tells us that the fundamental Bill of Rights is useful and effective only as long as the people wish its provisions. Hysteria and specious thinking of the citizens will invalidate it quicker than any dictator who might come here or grow here. In consideration of some of the language which is being used today one can say that we are neglectful of our personal liberty because we wish to deny it to others.

In our anxiety to "secure" our external protection, we are willing to surrender our internal privileges. We are willing to aid the rush of imperialism on the part of another nation, but we are unwilling to expand our democratic privileges within our own country. We are willing to feed Europe's victims of malnutrition, but we are unwilling to assuage the undernourished in our own country. We are such a paradoxical nation! We would go out and save the world for democracy, but we would not try to preserve our institutions through practical application of social laws—and economic rehabilitation. "Our fate is in England!" some shout. What is wrong in saying that our fate is in the United States?

Eight million unemployed, undernourished and underclothed school-children and adults, long rows of city and suburban slum areas, graft and corruption in many offices, thousands of illiterates, racial disparity, tenant farming, and innumerable ills are some blots upon our form of government, as it is administered. The only methods of remedy are those which consider the fact that human beings should be alive and not mere ciphers in some computation. Our constitution aims for that goal, but we are willing to eradicate those principles by ven-

At The Local Cinema

AT THE CLA-ZEL ...

Technicolor film, "Virginia" starring Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll plays here today, tomorrow and Friday. Story brings out conflict between ideals of north and south in romantic setting. Recommended.

Double feature Saturday includes "In Old Colorado" and "Blondie Goes Latin." Hopalong hits the leather to oust the nesters and Blondie goes on a South American cruise.

Dashing Errol Flynn sheds the romantic roles of the characters of history to play a role in a new modern comedy "Footsteps in the Dark." Flynn leads a double life and writes murder stories under a pseudonym. He branches out into detective work and gets in to complications. With Brenda Marshall. Sunday and Monday.

Courtroom drama with Laraine Day on the stand is "The Trial of Mary Dugan" with Robert Young in the supporting role. Pic plays next Tuesday.

A sensation for Bowling Green is the screen version of "Tobacco Road" which begins next week.

AT THE LYRIC ...

James Cagney is the tough bird out to out-do New York City with Ann Sheridan, his boyhood sweetheart in the dramatic pic, "City for Conquest" today and tomorrow. With a medley of bullets and ballads Johnny Mack Brown rides to the tune of an old song in "Bury Me Not On The Lone Prairie" showing Friday and Saturday. Also King of the Royal Mounted. Sunday and Monday brings John Wayne and Frances Dee in "A Man Betrayed."

Best comedy and mystery thriller last year is "Ghost Breakers," starring Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard. You'll laugh from beginning to end unless you choke in the middle. Good comedy. Shows Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Raymond Ruppert, journalism freshman at Washington State, is making profitable use of several letters written in the 1870's by the Hudson's Bay company to the Canadian police.

Measle Cases Decline, Health Office Treats 282

While the number of measles cases dropped from six of the previous week to four for the week of March 3-7, the total number of cases reporting to the health office increased from 241 to 282 for an average of 56.40 per day.

Again respiratory trouble was the leading factor in visits to the office with 105 cases being reported, an increase of 36 over the previous week. Managers John Whitcomb and Bob Wiscup reveal that Dimitri Kunch was the only student detained in the men's infirmary the past week, this being due to a dislocated elbow.

Nurse Maybelle Cranston reports that of the nine cases in the Shatzel Hall infirmary the week of March 2-9, there were three girls confined with the measles. Those in the infirmary were: Annabelle Moore, Mary Keller, Barbara Neely, Mary Enos, Cleo Short, Martha Wood, Lorena Riehm, Ileta Krieger, and Esther Porter.

Fragments Of Thought

By ALBERT L. BOUCHER

The Pan-American conference about to be held at Oberlin College, invites a few comments concerning the problem of hemispheric unity.

Duncan Aikman in his excellent book The All American Front suggests three possible approaches to the Latin American dilemma; the United States may use force to gain its ends, it may resort to bribery, or it may stand by with stoic indifference. This strikes me as being an intelligent appraisal. I would offer a few fragments of thought on the subject, mindful of the social, political, and economic factors involved.

Although we like to speak of the countries to the south of us as "neighbors," actually we have little in common with them. There is a difference of language, culture, historical background, and geography. From the day of Spanish exploitation at Porto Bello and Cartagena, thru the period of "dollar diplomacy" on the part of the United States, the 21 Latin American republics have been but a tramping ground for mercenary adventurers. The continent was not a land to be settled, but a country to be ravaged.

To return to the dilemma. For the United States to use force against Latin America is of course to repudiate the "good neighbor" policy of the Roosevelt administration. This is possible, but not probable. It is possible in the sense that if the totalitarian groups win in Europe and Asia, there might well grow up in this country a demand that the United States establish itself as a protectorate over Latin America to prevent foreign infiltrations. It is not probable, on the other hand, because it appears likely that either the Hitler and Mussolini or the American form of government will fail to survive the present orgy. Apparently, the world is not big enough for both. If the totalitarian regimes disappear, then the use of force in Latin America by the United States will be unnecessary. If American democracy disappears, then of course it will be unable to use force.

At the present time the United States is resorting to bribery to keep the Latin Americans in line. And like any other policy, it has its advantages and its disadvantages. The present war has cost our neighbors to the south some 500 million dollars in trade. But an extension of the conflict might well raise the figure to over one billion dollars. Now if the United States is going to keep the Latin Americans in line, then she must be willing to offset this loss. But recognizing that much of the trade of South America is competitive to our own and complimentary to that of Europe, it becomes clear that the reverse of the medal of bribery is extortion. Brazil and Argentina with their cotton, wheat, and beef will not sacrifice the advantage of European trade, except at a price. And that price will be measured by the competitive situation. Historically, it is a bit childish to speak of the financial commitments to South America as "loans." In 1939, 65 per cent of United States portfolio investments in Latin America were in either complete or partial default. Except as a temporary expedient, the bribery system must fail. It corrupts both the giver and the receiver.

For the United States to stand by with stoic indifference concerning Latin America is to deny that we have a vested interest in the Western Hemisphere. This we can not do. Especially for the countries south of Rio Grande, but north of the equator, the United States has a genuine need and concern. Because of their proximity to this country, we cannot be indifferent to their well being. And be it remembered that more than two-thirds of our Latin American trade is done with this northern group, for the most part in non-competitive products. We must insure a continuance of this source of supplies. But for the countries south of the equator, they find their neighbors in Europe. Here we might have a case for indifference.

On The Social Side By ROBERT HABENSTEIN

LABOR AND CAPITAL FRIENDLY? Labor and capital do not get along. They fight. A step gained by one is just that much ground lost by the other. Which is right? It depends upon how you make your living.

Proofs along this line is suggested by the fact that employers organize into various associations to protect themselves from the inroads of labor legislation. Right now there are several bills before the Ohio General Assembly. One of them seeks a revision of the Ohio unemployment Compensation Law in order to give the unemployed a better break. Another would set up a Labor Relations Committee to arbitrate labor disputes. It would define unfair labor practices and serve as a "Little Wagner Act."

If you are an employer, a business man, you will fight these and other labor bills. You will hire lobbyists to turn on the pressure. If you are successful, the bills will be defeated.

On the other hand, if you draw wages instead of a salary, or if you have a boss who gives you orders, you will be on the other side of the fence. You will use any method you can to have the bill passed, the same as your employer will use to secure its defeat.

Aren't capital and labor fine friends—just members of one big happy family! "OUT OF THE NIGHT" RELIABLE? Are you suspicious of the new best seller, Out of the Night, by Jan Valtin? If so, you might be interested in knowing that the author, Richard Krebs, is a German born refugee.

DRIPPINGS ...

Formal season always brings talk of corsages and what a waste of jack they are ... We're inclined to agree with those who believe that putting 75 cents to several dollars into a bunch of buds and stuff for one evening's wear is a little whacky ... Often the purchase of this costly accessory means the cutting down of the amount spent for entertainment after the dance or the forsaking of some other luxury or necessity which would be more fun or more useful than a corsage ... About the only reason that we can see for the things is the idea of "Keeping up with the Joneses" ... After all, you can't blame a girl for wanting flowers if all of the others have them ... Here is a problem—we're stumped concerning a solution ... It would not be practical to say that corsages would not be permitted at dances ... About the only thing that could be done would be for all the men to agree not to buy corsages, or for all the girls to agree not to ask for them ... whether either of these ideas would work or not, we don't know, but if the anti-corsage sentiment is as strong as it sounds, one of them ought to be worth a try ... initiative in this movement could be taken by the dorms or the fraternity and sorority houses.

DROOLINGS ...

Have you heard of Mark Twain's brother, Choo-Choo? ... Gripes department: Profs who lock the door if the students are late to class, thereby forcing them to take a cut. The trick backfired on one such prof when he arrived late for class the other day and found that the students had locked him out. The unfortunate part about it is that he doesn't have to pay $5 to get back into class ... Wacky wit department: Heard about the guy who invented a new silent alarm clock? ... it's wonderful ... suppose, for example, that you don't want to get up at 7 a. m. ... just set the thing for 7 a. m., and it rings so silently that it doesn't awaken you ... simple, what? ... it's just the thing if you don't want to get up for an 8 o'clock, or on week-ends when you don't want to get up at all.

DRIBLETS ...

Poetry corner: It's gotta be dark to sit and park ... Recommended recordings: "Down The Road A Piece" by the Will Bradley trio. It's boogie woogie via bass, piano, and drums, and it really rocks nice ... The Metronome all-star record is worth hearing too— "One O'clock Jump" on one side and "Bugle Call Rag" on the other, with such guys as B. Goodman, Ziggy Elman, Harry James, Buddy Rich, Tommy Dorsey, etc. playing it ... Things we like: The longer days and warmer weather ... the larger attendance at the Tues.-Thurs. 4-5:15 dance sessions in the Rec hall ... square dancing ... Shame on those who use the Rec hall for recreation (?) between classes. Better be careful. We hear the administration doesn't like it.

By a wide marginal lead over the "Blues," the "Whites," headed by Gretchen Hovis, took the basketball championship 36-24, March 6. Gretchen Hovis and Rita Snyder led the scoring with 11 points each, while Bette Baker followed closely with 5 swishers. On the "White" team were all-stars

Gretchen Hovis, Rita Snyder, Mary Bair, Doris Kear, Peg Benroth, Helen Sturgeon, Bonnie Boullis, Lois Fisher and Thelma Von Almen. Carrying the "Blue" banner were the rest of the all-stars Bette Baker, Frances Williams, Marie Baker, Vicki Finnegan, Marcella Massie, Marjorie Ripley, Harriet MacLean, Leslie Garvin, Betty Hendrickson and Fay Kreilick. Florence Coover and Shirley Francis threw the toss-ups and called the fouls.

On March 39 in both gyms of the Women's Building the W.A.A. will sponsor a fun carnival for the purpose of raising money to send delegates to represent Bowling Green State University at the annual State W.A.A. Conference at Muskingum College. Booths for games of skill, clown acts, a mystery booth, a fun house, a freak show and a special tumbling act will take over the north gym while there will be social dancing in the south gym. Added features are a door prize and a free act. A nominal admission fee will be charged. Rita Snyder is general manager and Virginia Patterson is publicity chairman.

To prove that our university is coming up to rank with the best of them is the fact that this year for the first time we are entering competition in the annual College Sports Day, sponsored by the University of Cincinnati. Ten girls are going and include: Betty Hendrickson, Gwendolyn Scott, Bonnie Boullis, Rita Snyder, Carolyn Peltner, Phyllis Fauble, Arlene Fisher, Leslie Garvin, Mary Alice Wolf, and Rae Ankney. They will compose a table tennis team to play Miami University, a badminton and a volley ball team to compete against the University of Cincinnati and a basketball team to play the University of Dayton.

3 Brothers Beat Delhis, Take Title

Pearce Pots Plenty Of Points To Plow Under Frat Team

For the first time in 10 years, an independent team won the intramural basketball crown when the Three Brothers toppled a favored Delhi quintet 30-22. Pearce led the victors with 6 field goals and 3 fouls for a total of 15 points.

Fast Semi-Finals

The Delhis battled their way into the finals with a thrilling 30-29 win over the Ideal Cleaners, American League winners. The frat champs were behind most of the way but rallied in the final minutes of play to come out on top. Dillman of the Cleaners led the scorers, while it was Street and Jones for the fratmen.

The Three Brothers gained the finals by crushing the Red Robbins, Kohl Hall champs, 38-17. Employing a powerhouse attack the National League winners were never in danger.

This playoff brings to an end the intramural basketball program for the year.

8 Frosh Natators Receive Numerals

Eight freshmen splashers will be awarded "1944" numeral sweaters, according to swim coach Budd Cox. "The yearling natators compose one of the best frosh outfits in the short history of sport at the University," stated Coach Cox, "and if they all return next year the Falcon varsity should be greatly improved." Don Brill is the only swimmer on the frosh squad that will be subject to call for army training during the coming year.

The squad is made up of Captain Paul Stark, back stroker from Adrian, Mich.; dashmen Jim Gorbey, Chester, Pa.; Dan Glenn, Bowling Green; Nick Sandoff, Toledo and Walter Sautters, Canton; and Kerm Echols, backstroker from Sandusky; Bill Hardman, breast-stroker, Akron; and diver Don Brill, Canton.

Ricketts Elected To Captain 1941-42 Brood Basketballers

Flashy Forward To Succeed Johnson As Cage Leader; Coach Landis Announces Eight Squad Men To Receive Awards

Phil Ricketts, sharp shooting junior forward, was announced as the successor to Dewey Johnson, his running mate, as captain of the 1941-42 Falcon basketball team, Friday evening at the annual Tip Off dance.

Ricketts, who hails from West Liberty, was one of the mainstays of the Brown and Johnson just closed. His fine floor play and clever ball handling marked him as an outstanding and spectacular ball player. He also scored his share of the points, placing second in team scoring with 140 counters.

Johnson Is Junior

Johnson, who is also a junior, having had the distinction of being captain in his second year, will not be back next year as he will be recalled to serve a year in the army in July. In his two years of varsity competition he piled up 415 tallies and gained honorable mention on several all-star selections.

Awards for the season just closed have been announced by Coach Paul E. Landis. The seven men who will be honored are captain Dewey Johnson, Edgerton; captain-elect, Phil Ricketts, West Liberty; Mike Marko, Cleveland; Gene Harkness, Pandora; Don Mason and Don Patterson, Bowling Green; Mike Kish and Larry Conrad, Maumee and Wally Uphoff, student manager.

Marko ends Eligibility Mike Marko is the only senior on the squad but it is not known how many of the returning squadmen will be called for selective service.

Lords Win Again; Falcons Tie For 5th

Sweeping six out of nine events and again smashing four Ohio Conference records the powerful Kenyon College Lords retained their conference crown for the fourth successive year Saturday evening in Crane Pool at Oberlin College.

Bowling Green's swimmers finished in a tie for fifth place with Wittenberg as Captain Jack Doane, Bob Ostheimer and the 400 yard relay team all garnered fourth places in their respective events.

The Kenyon mermen were paced by Sammy Cooke who smashed two records individually and along with the medley relay team smashed a third.

Divotdiggers, Racqueteers To Organize

Hendrickson, Marsh To Pilot Tennis, Golf, This Season

Dates have been set for organization meetings of prospective varsity golfers and tennis squadmen and plans have been made for setting up tentative schedules for these spring sports, according to an announcement coming from the Men's Physical Education office last week.

Professor Morris Hendrickson will be in charge of the meeting for varsity net candidates which will be held today at 4 p. m. in room 300 of the P. E. building, while Coach Fred E. Marsh will meet with the prospective linksmen Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the same room.

Marsh Golf Coach According to Coach Marsh, who will be in charge of Bowling Green's revived endeavors in the varsity golf field, a collegiate schedule will be arranged if the interest shown by the candidates for the squad warrants it. Plans have been completed to use the practice targets in the Women's building each afternoon until the inclement weather permits the use of the Bowling Green Country Club course.

Prof. Hendrickson will have several veteran racquet wielders from which to form a team. The quintet of letter winning holdovers from last year's squad, that was coached by Budd Cox, are Don Mason, Owen Hughes, Jim Hollinger, Chuck Snyder, and Harold Hagemeyer. Last year's squad broke even in a season that was cut short by bad weather and the lack of sufficient funds.

Mason Is Back Don Mason was number one man on the team last year and showed some great form during the season. However, he will have a tough time retaining this post this spring as he will be severely challenged by returning veterans and several members of last year's freshman squad.

A schedule is being arranged by Athletic Director Harry Ocker-

Toledo Y.M.C.A. Tramples Falcon Grapplers, 19-3

Butterfield Wins Brood's Only Points Against The Clubmen

The Falcon grapplers lost their second match of the season to the Toledo Y. M. C. A. Monday night in University gym by the top-heavy score of 19-3.

Kenny Butterfield, 136-pounder, picked up Bowling Green's lone 3 points on a thrilling 16-15 decision. Morrie Brillhart dropped the curtain raiser on a last period fall, and Johnny Curtis yielded the other 5 points to the invaders. Jim Showkeir dropped his match to Graham on a 7-4 decision, Graham winning on a last minute near fall. Ivan Miklich was also decided when the match went into overtime.

Ken Butterfield was the only Bowling Green repeater in this return match, for he pounded out another close decision on the Toledo end of this season's home and home agreement.

ANNOUNCEMENT

A call has been issued for all men interested in becoming track managers for the coming season. Positions on both the freshmen and varsity managerial staffs are open at present and those wishing to earn awards as managers should contact either Jim Zechman or Coach Paul E. Landis.

Falcons To Meet Oiler Trackmen

Findlay Will Bring Strong Squad For Tuesday Track Clash

The Brown and Orange thin-clads of Coach Paul Landis dig their rubber soled indoor track shoes into the gym oval next Tuesday afternoon when the Findlay Oilers meet the Falcons in a dual meet. This is the Falcon's second encounter of the indoor season.

Last year the Oilers took on the Landismen in the first meet of the season but trekked back to the Oil City with a 78-12 defeat on their hands.

Bishops Top Oilers Last week the Findlay tracksters lost a 62½-45½ decision to the Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan. The Oilers were able to take four of the thirteen firsts.

Findlay will have a veteran squad available with Bob Cone performing the two hurdle events and the high jump in mid-season form. Lindsay, Black and Orange football star, will leave the shot and run the 220 dash for the Oilers. Henderson will carry the Findlay colors in the mile event. Kitzrow and Van Allen will be trying for places in the 440 while Hary is slated to run the 40 yd. and 220 dash events. Others to be seen in action are Baker, in the high jump; Jones in the two mile; and Bager in the pole vault.

Coach Landis will be hoping for his star speedster, Eddie Wellner, to be ready to go so as to give the Falcons more strength in the dashes and the high jump. Other event starters will be very similar to those who performed in the Al-bion contest.

Oberlin will conclude the Falcon's indoor season with a dual meet on March 25.

And those qualities depend considerably upon the way your cigarette burns.

Camels burn slower—definitely. That's a well-established scientific finding. That means Camels give you extra mildness, extra coolness, extra flavor.

Hello there, you coeds and fellas! Have you noticed the change of seasons? Many of the downtown store windows are heralding the coming spring with luscious pastels and prints that make one's budget fairly green with envy. I'll just have to write home p.d.q.—for after all, a girl does have to keep up with the season.

Have you a brother or friend who was drafted by Uncle Sam? I'll bet you admire his definitely military uniform—why not stop in at THE GENEVIEVE SHOP to see ladies' spring coats, army-officer-styled, in the traditional gray gabardine with a nifty belted back. This snappy little outfit is mannishly tailored and the latest model at only $19.95.

Costume Jewelry? You'd never know it by looking at these quaint miniature figures, animals, and flowers cleverly carved in wood and metals and painted in delightfully new pastel shades. Another variety is made of sponge, cork or seashells. These novel accessories that would indeed compliment any girl's wardrobe are featured at KLEVER'S for 79c.

COMMONERS ENGAGE COLUMBUS BAND TO PLAY FOR FORMAL SATURDAY AT 9

By MARTHA WALRATH

Tonight we lucky students at Bowling Green State University will have the privilege of attending Albert Spalding's concert. This celebrated violinist will play for students and townspeople in the University auditorium. The concert will begin at 8:15, but if you're planning to attend, the advice is to hurry to the auditorium (Don't forget your ac card.) sooner than 8:10. Mr. Spalding's appearance here is no everyday occurrence, so take heed. If at 8:15, you arrive to find no seats, don't say we didn't warn you.

And the spring formal dances continue. This week the Commoners' Fraternity are busy completing plans for their annual formal Saturday evening in the Rec Hall. The orchestra to play for the occasion will be Howdy Gorman's from Columbus, and the reports are that he will be "plenty all right." You can check up on the finer details of the Commoners' formal elsewhere on the page.

The University colors, orange and brown, predominated in the decorations for the FIVE BROTHER Tip Off dance held last Friday from 8:30 to 12 in the Women's Gym with about 250 couples attending. Basketball sweaters hung from the walls and colored streamers led to the orchestra stand. Background for Bob Hagedorn and his Rhythm Riders was a sweater line-up of the starting team positions.

During intermission Dewey Johnson, this year's captain, and Phil Ricketts, captain-elect, were introduced to the dancers. The entire basketball squad were guests of the Five Brother Fraternity for the evening. Five Brothers at the dance were distinguishable by red badges.

The following men are now DELHI pledges: Ralph Klein, John Johanssen, Larry Conrad, Bill Sams, Fred Thompson, Olin Fischer, Leonard Held, Clark Munger Ray Robbins, John Evanoff, Ralph Coppel, Keith Hickman, Don Hendricks. These men held a Grand Shoe Shining Festival last Thursday evening. Housemother Berry even let these experts give her shoes that professional lustre. Olin Fischer had to get all the brothers at the house up at 7 o'clock last week. Reports are that he is recovering.

The committees for the Delhi assembly program are all beginning to function and hopes for a "Four Beller" are apparent.

Saturday night the house was the scene for a party and a bull session that lasted until the early hours of the morning. Hot dogs and coffee were the appetite appeasers and the report is that more of these parties are going to be held. Several of the alumni members were back for the party.

Sally Rand recently lectured a student group at the University of Minnesota on "The Value of White Space in Advertising."

Howdy Gorman, the midwest melody master from Columbus, with his 12 piece orchestra will play at the annual COMMONERS Spring Formal Saturday, according to Dick Jaynes, chairman of the orchestra committee.

A comparatively young band, Gorman, four feet eleven, is a popular group among fraternities at Ohio State and the Columbus hotels. His music is sweet, smooth flowing—with a touch of swing in the Gorman way. This is his first engagement on the campus.

Chaperones for the affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Zaugg and Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Singer, fraternity sponsors. A host of faculty members have been invited as guests.

The SEVEN SISTER sorority formal rush dinner was held last Friday evening in the Woman's Club at 6. Decorations for the affair suggested a southern plantation and each rushee was presented with an old-fashioned nosegay corsage. During the dinner songs were sung by Betty Hilber and Eloise Dyer. Ruth Baxter acted as toastmistress for the evening. Arlene Muhlan was general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The THREE-KAY Sorority entertained 15 rushees at its formal dinner in the Woman's Club last Thursday evening.

Table decorations centered around a Swiss Peasant theme. The program consisted of a violin solo by Leonore Bowdle, a musical selection by the Sorority Sextette, and a reading by Hannah Roller.

Sunday at 12:30 the Three-Kays held their Founder's Day Luncheon. About 20 alumnae were present.

The FIVE SISTER Sorority held its Formal Dinner in the dining room of its house Wednesday, March 5.

Sixty-five covers were laid and each rushee was given a gardenia. The program consisted of a facsimile of Kay Kyser's College of Musical Knowledge. Gene Kellogg acting as Kyser, was assisted by her orchestra: Dorothy Mercer, Bette Sams, Harriet McKnight and Marie Greenwood, (vocalist).

Marietta Kershner was general chairman of the affair.

Dancers En Route Will Appear Here

"Dancers En Route," a trio of modern dancers will be presented in a dance recital in the Auditorium March 20 at 8:15 by the physical education department, according to a statement from Miss Emilie Hartman, dancing instructor. Student admission is 20 cents.

The group which gets its name from its barnstorming around the United States is composed this year of Elizabeth Waters, Linda Locks and Sam Steen. Miss Waters is nationally known through her work with the Hanya Holm troupe with which she has made several transcontinental tours and which appeared here on the campus last year. Linda Locks began her career on the West Coast as a dancer in the group of Veronica Pataky. Steen first appeared as an impressionistic acrobatic and tap dancer in Philadelphia. He joined the Ted Shawn Men Dancers, appearing with them for several seasons as a soloist doing original dance characterizations.

Pinochle Champions Named At Kohl Hall

A colorful pinochle tournament came to an end last week at KOHL Hall with Newton Bates and Ben Tinwalde being crowned the champs of the dormitory. These boys edged out a victory over the runner-up team composed of John Bronson and Bob Neuman.

The bridge play offs are in the semi finals now with the teams of Munger and Ward, and Bronson and Neuman ready to battle it out for the championship.

PHRATRA sorority held its formal rush dinner Saturday evening at the Woman's Club. Dinner service was at 6 followed by a program of entertainment. Miriam Leindecker, president, acted as toast mistress. Group singing was led by Mildred Cooke with Agnes Drummer at the piano. A reading was given by Mary Cross and Mrs. Elden T. Smith, sponsor, gave a short talk. Committee for the dinner was Mary Cross, chairman, Jane Otis and Neva Spilker.

5 Brother Formal Held On Saturday

Approximately seventy couples enjoyed the nineteenth Five Brother formal on Saturday evening in Recreation Hall. Bob Hagedorn and his Cleveland Rhythm Riders furnished the music.

A crepe paper false ceiling in fraternity colors with a hundred colored balloons formed the overhead decorations. An illuminated skull and crossbones formed the background for the bandstand. Refreshments consisted of punch and wafers.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Prout, Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Slater, Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Powell, and Prof. and Mrs. Upton Palmer. Harold Mehlow served as general chairman.

CLOVIA sorority entertained a group of rushees at the home of Ruth Ketzenbarger last Saturday.
